18th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Recent studies suggest that millennials will be the first generation in America to be worse off than their parents in terms of financial earnings and job status. Many lament this. I propose that this week's Gospel provides a hopeful way to see the trend as good news.

The Lord Jesus says, "Take care to guard against greed, for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist in possessions" (Luke 12:15). Greed damages us with the deception that we are what we possess. But to Jesus, this is simply not true. What makes us happy is who we are, who we become.

Does not the expectation that every generation should do better than their parents subtly mask the poison of greed? A similar attitude is mirrored in the man who demands that Jesus justly arrange his share of the family inheritance. Despite the injustice, Jesus will not play that game. In fact, he seems to prefer that the man have less than his parents. What good would having more be to this man if he becomes enslaved and miserable by greed? What good would it be for us to have more if it means we become much less?

In allowing the man to have less, Jesus opens a space for him to become more: a man free to love. In that much more meaningful sense, perhaps he was better off than his parents. Maybe the millennials will be, too.

— Father John Muir

XVIII Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

Son las 9:08 de un sábado por la mañana y estoy demasiado ocupada para confesarme.

Probablemente he escrito antes sobre lo difícil que me resulta llegar a la confesión, digo "probablemente" porque realmente no puedo recordar. Me quejo de ello con tanta frecuencia que es difícil saber si lo he convertido en el tema de una pieza escrita o si es simplemente un estribillo recitado a menudo de la Letanía de las Quejas Perpetuas de Colleen.

Durante la semana, es difícil confesarme porque tengo niños pequeños que están pegados a mí como Velcro, y no necesito que escuchen (y eventualmente repitan a todos) mis pecados. Los fines de semana es un poco más fácil, pero nuestra parroquia no lo ofrece antes o después de la misa dominical, solo los sábados. El sábado es cuando termino la mayor parte de mi trabajo, por lo que obtener la absolución generalmente se produce a expensas de la productividad.

Y eso, amigos, aquí mismo, es mi granero. La productividad. Ese es el proverbial almacén de mi cosecha terrenal. Para el hombre rico de la parábola, es un granero literal, lleno a reventar de cosechas vendibles. Para ti, puede ser el dinero, el título de tu trabajo o cómo se ve tu vida para otras personas en las redes sociales. Para mí, es hacer cosas. Ese es mi granero, el depósito que contiene todas mis preocupaciones mundanas.

Y está tan lleno que quiero derribarlo y construir uno nuevo. Uno más grande. Uno que pueda contener más preocupaciones, más tiempo para el trabajo, más enfoque en la producción y en tachar cosas de una lista de tareas pendientes. Vanidad de vanidades, en efecto.

Si muero esta noche, los plazos no se cumplirán y nadie se dará cuenta. Pero Dios, cuando se encuentre conmigo en el mundo venidero, seguramente me preguntará por qué no pude tomarme 45 minutos para aceptar un regalo que Él trató de darme una y otra vez.

Tengo que quemar el granero, amigos. No quiero, pero tengo que hacerlo. Cierro mi laptop y me voy a la iglesia.
